TWO PICTURES.

A paper by some persons supposed to be comic has a cartoon representing the American laborer staggering under a pyramid of burdens, while a capitalist carefully poised on the top of the pile one more brick, labelled "tin plate duty." The picture, says the New York Tribune, has one great merit. It puts into intelligible form the notion which many men honestly have of the existing tariff and the senate's amendments.

But the picture is a fraud. If it told the truth it would represent the American laborer walking erect, utterly unconscious of any burdens whatsoever, toward the door of a savings bank in which he has deposited $1,000,000,000, or more than the entire bonded debt of the United States. It would represent also the home of the American laborer, supplied with comforts such as are found in the homes of workingmen nowhere else in the world. The house, the table, the clothing for self, wife and children, bear testimony that the man's earning's enable him to share with others in a larger consumption for 60,000,000 inhabitants than can be found elsewhere on earth for any 100,000,000. In the distance, the same picture would represent the laying of foundations for new rolling mills and factories, in which American labor is to make the tin plates which it now has to buy from English monopolists.

It is a hundred to one that at least one of the workers engaged in preparing, engraving or printing this free-trade cartoon landed not very long ago, hungry, dirty and ragged, a glad refugee from some country where a "high protective tariff" is unknown. He fled from that "untaxed" land because there he had no chance to better his condition. After a few months or years in this horribly taxed country, behold him decently fed, decently clothed, and with a decent home, all the fruit of "intolerably burdened" labor, and yet he spends his time in reviling and slandering the system which has made a man of him.

He is not always satisfied, the American laborer; he has not always reason to be satisfied. Much as he receives, he might in many cases justly claim a larger share of the benefits of protection. But at the worst estate he is infinitely better off than when he landed, flying from untaxed lands. Compare the new men who gladly offer to drive the horse-cars at wages which 6,000 workers in this city have refused. The hours are hard and the wages low, for this protected country, but they would be good wages for a skilled mechanic in any "untaxed" land. The men who come forward to take these places are presumably worse off than any body of Americans who have had employment, and yet compare them with the men who land at the battery, before they have enjoyed any of the benefits of the American system. Is there not a difference which even the stupidest of all free traders can see at a glance?

In this country, as in every other, some fall by the wayside, or meet with disaster, or attempt something for which they have not necessary qualities, or by the failure of employers are throw out of work. Here congregate many of the half million yearly who come from other lands to seek work, and they have to begin where they can until something better offers. And yet even in this great city, the very doorway of foreign immigration, and in an occupation for which is necessary neither training, nor education, nor acquaintance, nor established character, the workers get better wages than the printers, smiths, coach makers, the male weavers or spinners or warpers or sorters in woolen mills, the silk dyers and power weavers, the cotton mule spinners or finishers, the carpet weavers or dyers, the plate makers, saucer makers, hollow-ware pressers or kiln men, the paper makers or finishers, the iron miners, coal miners or engine men, the rolling mill puddlers, rollers, roughers or wheelers, the moulders or pattern makers, engine men of iron furnaces, the hat finishers, gas stokers, boot and shoe cutters or finishers the carpenters, painters or machinists of England, the free-trade paradise. What a much-burdened country this is, to be sure!

Governor Hoard has worked himself out of a close corner very neatly, and to the satisfaction of his friends. There was a good deal of opposition to the reappointment of Colonel E. W. Keyes as regent of the university, and it required considerable courage to let him drop and take up a new man. But the governor was equal to the occasion, and all things considered he regarded it his duty to make a new appointment. He did so, putting Mr. L. S. Hanks, of Madison, in Colonel Keye's place, which is a first class appointment, and making other changes on the board of regents as follows: J. V. Quarles, of Racine, to succeed J. H. McMynn; Dr. J. A. Rice, of Merton, to succeed D. Hitt; J. M. True, of Baraboo, to succeed C. H. Williams. Mr. Frank Challoner of Oshkosh, has been reappointed. If the special friends of Colonel Keyes got a little wrathy over his defeat, their ill-temper was soon turned to good nature, for the very next day Governor Hoard appointed him judge of the municipal court of Madison to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Braley. The appointment is a good one both for the judiciary and for Keyes. The office will get a good piece of timber for a judge and the judge will get a good salary.

There will be an important congress of the Scotch-Irish race in Columbia, Tennessee, on the 8th. of next May. Distinguished orators and scholars of that race will read papers commemorating the deeds of the Scotch-Irish. Columbia was chosen as the place of meeting because it is central in location, and was the home of two famous Scotch-Irishmen, Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk. The chosen is the most delightful season of the year in that latitude, and every effort will be made to insue the comfort and promote the pleasure of those who attend. The congress will be a revelation to many people, in that it will show how numerous and influential the Scotch-Irish in this country are.

The American Minister's departure from England is speedily followed by a report from London, not yet confirmed officially, that Lord Sackville's successor at Washington is to be Sir Julian Pauncefote, who has long been connected with the British foreign office and for several years has held the post of permanent under-secretary of state. He has never held a diplomatic office, but has devoted himself to legal matters, being a lawyer by profession. The dispatch announcing the appointment indicates that it is not in accordance with diplomatic precedents and therefore not popular in English diplomatic circles. The name of Sir Julian Pauncefote is not familiar in this country, but it may soon become so.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

The Printing Contract Causes a Lively Discussion in the Assembly.

Petitions Against the Taylor Railway Bill in the Senate.

Henry M. Stark Appointed to Succeed Frank A. Flower as Labor Commissioner.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6—In the house this morning a lengthy debate occurred on a substitute to the resolution introduced last week, and laid over, calling for a joint committee to inquire as to the necessity for printing cumbersome and expensive public documents. The substitute called for a special committee of three from each house to make a thorough investigation of the state printing contracts. After several speeches had been made for and against the bill, the substitute resolution was finally adopted

Among the bills introduced were:

To authorize the governor to appoint a committee of three, including himself, to attend the Centennial celebration of Washington, April 30th.

For punishment of persons for the abandonment of minor children, and for husband abandonment of wife.

Bill amending the Koegh election law in Milwaukee was passed under a suspension of rules.

Among the bills introduced were:

Authorizing the State Board of Supervision to adopt rules for crediting deserving convicts some portion of their earnings, to be paid them on discharge, or while in prison.

Governor Hoard to-day appointed Henry M Stark, of Milwaukee, to succeed Frank A. Flower, as labor statistician.

The bill appropriating $12,000 to the State Fish Commission, was passed.

INDIAN HORSEMANSHIP.

Remarkable Equestrian Peformances of an Arapahoe Band.

Given a horse, a man animated by the reckless daring likely to come of a wild, free life, and the Centaur of ancient fable may be fairly realized. A correspondent, having visited an Arapahoe camp, gives the following account of an Indian drill, ordered for his amusement:

Fifty fine-looking young men, mounted upon ponies, drew up before the tents. At a signal from the chief they began their evolutions, with a loud yell.

In a moment they disappeared over a neighboring hill. Then there suddenly rose a mighty trampling of horses' feet, and they swept past again, so compact that I only saw a ball made of horses and men.

Splitting in two, one body swept to the right and another to the left, and again they disappeared. Presently they charged each other, in solid lines, and while the spectator waited breathlessly for the shock of collision, the files skilfully opened to the right and left, and the lines passed through the intervals without thouching.

Now came the moment for displaying individual horsemanship. Some of the riders approached, each lying so close to his pouy's back that nothing but the horse could be seen. Some hung to the horse by one foot and one hand, so that their bodies was completely protected by those of the ponies.

The young warriors also threw objects upon the ground, and picked them up at full gallop, and drew bows and shot arrows from beneath the horse's necks. Some of the men exchanged horses while riding.

Again, a man would fall from his horse, as if wounded, and two others, riding up beside him, would take him by an arm and a leg, swing him between their horses, and carry him off.

The exhibition lasted nearly two hours, and at its close, men and horses were completely exhausted. All that evening the human performers lay in their lodges, while the Indian women brought them food, bathed their limbs and combed their hair.

AUSTRIA IN MOURNING.

The Remains of Crown Prince Rudolph Deposited in the Tomb.

VIENNA, Feb. 6.—The city Tuesday was entirely given over to mourning. All places of business were closed, and the life of the town was concentrated around the spot where the obsequies of the Crown Prince were held. The Emperor and Empress and the Crown Princess attended a requiem mass in the cratory of the palace. The services were ended at noon. The church bells then commenced to toll. The coffin lid was fastened at 2 o'clock. A short time after the gates of the chapel were closed and the members of the imperial family gathered around the catafalque to take a last farewell of the remains. Just before 4 o'clock the members of the imperial house who had left the chapel stopped in front of the side entrance of the Capuchin church in the Kloster Gasse, where they were received by Prince Hohenlohe, Prince Hunyadi, chief master of ceremonies, and the father guardian, accompanied by friends of the community bearing lighted tapers.

The interior of the church was entirely draped in black. The catafalque was erected in the middle of the church and was surrounded by massive candelabra. Near the catafalque was a tabouret for Archbishop Ganglbauer, who celebrated a pontifical mass.

On the stroke of 4 the coffin was lifted from the bier, blessed, and carried to the funeral car. The cortege then started from the Hofburg. Upon reaching the Augustine church the priests assembled there placed themselves at the head of the procession and were followed by the court and State officials and the municipal authorities. When the car bearing the body arrived at the cloister gates Emperor Francis Joseph and the King and Queen of the Belgians, followed by the other mourners, entered the body of the church.

Archbishop Ganglbauer, with the cathedral chapter, awaited the coffin at the entrance of the church, and preceded it to the interior. Amid a solemn silence he blessed the remains, sprinkling holy water on the coffin. Presently the thrilling strains "Libera me Domine," sung by the court choir, broke the impressive hush. When the choral was over and just as the chamberlains were preparing to carry the coffin to the vault the Emperor, stepping up to the bier, knelt in prayer. On arising he was joined by Archduke Charles, Prince Francis of Este, Prince Leopold of Bavaria, and Prince Philip of Coburg, and all followed the coffin to the vault, where, after the final blessing, Prince Hohenlohe delivered the remains to the charge of the father guardian.

The Empress, crown princess, Princess Gisela, and Archduchess Marie Valerie did not attend the funeral, passing the time in prayer within the Hofburg.

SAYS HE WAS A SPY.

Major Lecaron Tells of the Fenian Invasion—Parnell's Suit Dismissed.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The proceedings before the Parnell commission to-day were enlivened by some interesting testimony from Major Lecaron, who was one of the heroes of the Fenian invasion of Canada some twenty years ago. He testified that he then held an important post in the military organization of Fenians in America, and acknowledged that before and during the invasion he knew of the intentions and movements of his friends all in good time to enable Canada to baffle their plans.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 5.—The suit of Parnell against the London Times has been dismissed by the court. Mr. Parnell has appealed, and will carry the case to the highest courts.

Prince Rudolph's Last Letter.

BUDA-PESTH, Feb. 6.—The last letter addressed by Crown Prince Rudolph to Herr von Szoegyenzi, an attache of the imperial household, to whom he had intrusted the arrangement of his papers, is published here to-day. It is undated, but bears evidence that it was recently written. In it the Crown Prince reminds his correspondent of his trust, urges him to come and fulfill it, and adds: "I can live no longer."

Shameful Treatment of O'Brien.

DUBLIN, Feb. 6—Mr. Sexton, the lord mayor, at a meeting of the corporation today, said that he telegraphed to Secretary Balfour at 11 o'clock Friday night expressing his fears that O'Brien would die. He had ample time to answer or act. He did neither. The banquet at which the men could calmly sit while their victim was thought to be at the point of death the mayor likened to a feast of cannibals.

Searching for a Stone-Thrower.

DUBLIN, Feb. 6.—The situation at Gweedore, County Donegal, is more quiet to-day. The assailant of Police Inspector Martin, who was struck on the head with a stone and killed while attempting to arrest Father McFadden on Sunday last, is known to the police, who are scouring the country in search of him.

An Embezzler Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 6.—Alexander A. Davidson, ex-postmaster at Seymour, was arrested by a federal marshal this morning charged with embezzling $1,200 from the office. He gave bonds.

HORROR IN AN ASYLUM.

BOILER EXPLOSION IN THE NEBRASKA MADHOUSE.

Two Killed and Four Injured—Mangled in a Railway Collision—A Queer Accident—Casualties.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 6.—One of the boilers used to heat the insane asylum exploded at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, instantly killing two men and seriously injuring four others, two of whom are likely to die.

The killed are:

T. K. POWERS, a patient from Pawnee county.

W. H. HUNTLEY, a patient from Saline county.

The injured are:

JOHN NORRIN, chief engineer, probably fatally scalded.

The two dead men had been inmates of the asylum for about five years. Both were frightfully scalded and must have died instantly. John Norrin, the chief engineer, was standing at his post when the catastrophe occurred. The boilers are in a brick building a little way back of the asylum. He was hurled through the flying bricks for some distance, but no bones were broken.

Davis said he had just blown off engine No. 2 and started the fires under the other boilers when he heard a noise in the dome of engine No. 2, and sprung to the door to call the chief engineer. A momont later everything was in ruins and he lay scalded and bleeding in the debris.

The debris of the wrecked building is scattered but little. A portion of the north wall is still standing. Near it is the huge smoke-stack uninjured, standing out like a lone sentry. The ruins are almost all within the original space of the walls and form a black mass of upturned boilers, blackened timbers and twisted iron rods.

The asylum suffered but little damage, only a few window lights being broken. It contains 400 patients and a panic was narrowly averted. Forty stoves have been taken to the asylum to keep the patients from freezing.

It is said that the boilers had not been inspected for six years, and if this is true the officials will have to make explanation for the neglect.

KILLED AND MANGLED.

One Man Loses His Life and Three Others Are Terribly Injured.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 6.—A terrible accident occurred shortly after midnight on the Lowell railroad near the Prospect street station in Somerville, whereby an engineer lost his life and a fireman, brakeman and conductor were severely if not fatally injured. An eye-witness says that about 12:30 a. m., a locomotive and tender passed up the track toward the Arlington branch, which it appears was on the way to Somerville. The engine as it passed the bridge and neared the Winter Hall station swayed back and forth, and then, after it had gone a short distance, it left the track and toppled over on its side. It was found that the engine had fallen across the inward track and a man was pinioned beneath the cab. One of the injured men had taken the precaution to light a lantern and set it upon the track, but a train came down, and before it could slow up collided with the locomotive and drove it ahead toward the Cross street bridge, carrying the injured man beneath it. When he was taken out he was dead and horribly mangled. He proved to be the engineer, W. Lankell, 35 years of age. He was a native of Montpelier, Vt. On the locomotive was the fireman, Fred Trenhamm, a brakeman named Seers, and Charles Cushling, a freight conductor. The fireman and brakeman were both seriously injured. The conductor was badly scalded.

SEVENTEEN MEN DROWNED.

A Terrible Disaster at Pine Lake, in Fulton County, New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 6.—News has been received here of a dreadful accident at Pine lake, Fulton county. The reports are indefinite, but as far as can be learned the disaster resulted in the drowning of seventeen men.

The victims were driving teams engaged in hauling logs across the ice, when the ice broke and the men and horses were all lost. A dispatch from Canajoharie says that the following information has been received there regarding the accident at Pine lake:

"Twenty-four teams were engaged in drawing logs across the ice, regarding the safety of which no fears had been felt. It gave way, however, after seven drivers and teams reached the shore and the remaining drivers and horses broke through the ice and sunk out of sight. None of the bodies have yet been recovered."

MISTAKEN FOR A COW.

An Unknown Man Run Over and Killed at Coatsburg, Ill.

QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 6.—The incoming Wabash train this morning knocked down and instantly killed an unknown man, two miles east of Coatsburg. The man had nothing on his person that would lead to his identification, but he is supposed to be a wanderer from the Adams county poor-farm. He was standing on the track wrapped in a red quilt, and was mistaken for a cow. When the engineer blew the whistle the man walked to the edge of the track, and when struck was knocked a distance of twenty-five feet. He was evidently a German and apparently 50 years of age.

NEENAH, Wis., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Irene Bishop of Wausaukee took an overdose of morphine Saturday night and died from its effects. She leaves a husband and several children. She was a sister-in-law of Thomas Nash, ex-superintendent of the railway mail service.

Francis Josef Summons a Council.

VIENNA, Feb. 6.—The Emperor has summoned a council of Austrian and Hungarian ministers to consider whether it is best to publish further details of the Crown Prince's death, with a view to stopping the scandalous reports as to its cause. LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLIES.

ILLINOIS ADVANCES THE STOCK YARDS CHARGES BILL.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 6.—After the meeting of the House Tuesday morning the Speaker announced that he had appointed Messrs. Hoppin and O'Toole as additional members of the committee of drainage.

House bills on first reading being the first thing in order, Mr. Hoppin moved that the bill of Representative Jones, of Sangamon, regulating stock yard charges, and preventing extortion, be referred to the committee on judiciary, notwithstanding it had been considered and favorably reported unanimously by the committee on agriculture. Laid on the table by a vote of 66 yeas to 41 nays.

Browne of La Salle now moved that the bill be referred to the committee on corporations. Mooney of Will made a point of order that a motion for reference having once been made and voted upon, the motion of Browne for reference to another committee was not in order at this time. The speaker sustained his point of order and the bill was read a first time.

After the reading of the bill, Mr. Brown resumed his motion for its reference to the committee on corporations. He held that the bill was now at a different stage, having been read a first time since the last motion, and his motion was now in order. The speaker sustained him, whereupon Mr. Jones of Sangamon moved to lay the motion for reference on the table.

On this the yeas and nays were demanded by the friends of the bill, and the second motion for reference was laid upon the table by a vote of 66 yeas to 40 nays. The opponents of the measure gave up the fight at this juncture, and the bill was unanimously ordered to second reading.

In the order of bills on second reading the measure introduced by Mr. Crafts "providing for private driveways in incorporated cities, villages, and towns" was taken up for consideration. The real object of this bill is to allow the extension of Washington boulevard from Chicago through the town of Cicero, and the emergency clause which the committee recommended to be attached to the bill was adopted without opposition. The bill was finally ordered to third reading.

Mr. Mooney's bill authorizing cities, towns, and villages to appropriate surplus funds arising from liquor licenses to the aid of schools within their corporate limits was ordered to a third reading without discussion. After this order was made, however, Mr. Davis of Greene objected to the bill on the ground that it did not specify whether the surplus funds should be appropriated to public or sectarian schools, and gave notice that he would move to reconsider the vote by which the order was made.

Mr. Mooney, the author of the bill, declares that the omission of the word "public" was a mere clerical error and denies any intention of seeking to legislate in favor of sectarian schools. In support of this assertion he declares that he himself will move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was ordered to a third reading, thereby permitting amendments to be made restricting the appropriations to public schools exclusively.

The Senate.

Immediately after the reading of the journal in the Senate Tuesday morning, the special order being Senator Crawford's resolution for a constitutional amendment in relation to the government of Cook county, Mr. Crawford offered a substitute resolution, and its consideration was made a special order for next Thursday morning, immediately after the reading of the journal.

Next came a shower of petitions for local options, for repealing the pharmacy law, and for repealing the game law.

Messrs. Bacon of Edgar, Fuller, Eckhart, Berry, Washburn, Pierce, Sheets, Hogle and Kerrick presented petitions in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Bacon of Edgar, Eckhart, Fuller, Berry and Shutt, petitions for the repeal of the pharmacy law.

By Mr. Secrest—For uniform school books to be printed by the State and furnished to the districts a cost.

By Mr. Campbell—Opposing any change in the amount of appropriation for the county fairs.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Mr. Thomas, appropriating $50,000 for a monument in Jackson Park, Chicago, to the memory of John A. Logan; by Mr. Fuller, to repeal the Pharmacy law; by Mr. Eckhart, to regulate the rental charges for the use of telephones. It provides that in cities containing 60,000 inhabitants or over, the charge shall not be more than $6 per month. In cities containing between 50,000 and 60,000 people the charge shall be not more than $4 per month, and in cities of less than 50,000 inhabitants the maximum charge shall be $3 per month.

Adjourned.

LAWS FOR THE HOOSIERS.

The House Passes Several Bills Decreasing the Governor's Appointive Power.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 6.—The General Assembly worked six hours Tuesday and advanced a good many bills on the calendar. The Democratic committee bill providing for the election of five supreme court commissioners by the General Assembly passed the House by a party vote. The bill as passed provides that the duties of the commissioners shall be purely ministerial and that the supreme judges shall not be bound by anything the commission may do. The House also engrossed the bill providing for a board of control for Indianapolis, the members to be elected by the General Assembly, and the bill providing for separate bonds of trustees for each of the benevolent institutions. Both of these bills were opposed by the minority, who argued that the benevolent institutions should be removed from politics. A bill creating a State board of charities reached engrossment also by the unanimous vote of the members. The House as a committee of the whole began consideration of the deficiency appropriation bill. The reductions recommended the majority of the committee on ways and means were approved without objection until the item allowing the State Auditor $1,000 for office expenses was reached. The allowance has usually been $600 and the minority recommended a reduction to that amount. Mr. Willard explained that it was from this fund that the Auditor had to pay the salary of Robertson as Lieutenant-Governor. After a prolonged discussion the report of the majority of the committee was concurred in. The Senate passed a bill making Hamilton and Madison counties separate judicial circuits, and also a bill creating a Superior court in Elkhart county.

The Bay State Saloon Must Go.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 6.—The temperance people of Massachusetts are joyful over the passage by the House of Representatives to-day of the resolution for a prohibitory constitutional amendment. The resolution has now passed two legislatures and goes to the people. The best opinion is that it will receive the popular approval.

WISCONSIN LAW-MAKERS.

A Bill to Protect Voters Introduced in the Senate.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 6.—Both houses of the Legislature Tuesday used a good deal of their time in receiving and disposing of petitions regarding the alleged dens of infamy in the northern part of the State. In the Senate a joint resolution was offered providing for the submission to the people of the question of calling a constitutional convention to revise the constitution. A bill was presented appropriating to the State Firemen's association $1,000 for each of the years 1889 and 1890. A bill to prevent espionage at elections, to secure independence to voters, and for the distribution of election tickets was read. An option bill relative to the sale of intoxicating liquors will be likely to receive much attention, as many petitions will be poured in asking for its passage. Another bill proposes to transfer the duties of the State pension agent to the Adjutant-General, and for this extra service he is to be paid $2,000. A law is asked to provide for mustering into the militia service an additional battery of light artillery to be located at Ripon. The Governor sent in a communication from the Governor of Kansas calling attention to the law enacted against the beef and pork trusts and suggesting similar action by the Wisconsin legislature.

A change has taken place relating to the municipal judgeship here. H. M. Lewis was dropped and Col. E. W. Keyes appointed. There will be an election to fill the place next April, and Keyes will be a candidate. The Governor sent in the appointments of E. M. Johnson, Walworth, H. Chandler, and Dave E. Guy Pierce as normal school regents.

GOFF LEADS.

NATHAN GOFF.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 6.—Senator Van Pelt joined the opposition to Mr. Kenna Tuesday, casting his vote for Henry S. Walker. Mr. Merrill voted for E. W. Wilson and Dorr and Shanklin for Frank Hereford.

S. H. Piersol received the Union Labor vote. Mr. Goff received 43 votes and Mr. Kenna 41 on the second ballot.

Mr. Merrill voted for Kenna, but this was the only change. Only two ballots were taken.

The Democrats held a conference Tuesday night, but did not agree on any plan of conduct. President Carr of the Senate is out as a candidate for Senator to succeed Kenna. Mr. Carr is a Union Labor man and has stood aloof from either Democrats or Republicans, but the former elected him president of the State Senate. He has three followers who have voted for him. If he secures forty-three other votes he will be elected. The gubernatorial contest may put him in the Senate and give Speaker Woods of the House the Governorship. The fight is hard, with no quarter. The report that Goff was elected on the second ballot Tuesday was premature.

THE COLD WAVE.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 6.—A sure enough cold wave is having fun with the people in Minnesota.

It started somewhere up in Manitoba, and just made things hum. Tuesday morning in the northern part of Minnesota the thermometer registered 46 degrees below, the coldest by far of any day this winter. In Winnipeg, St. Vincent, Huron, D. T., and other towns up there about the same frigidity was noted.

Great Blizzard Near Marquette, Mich.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Feb. 6.—The greatest blizzard known for years raged in this region Monday night, and was still howling Tuesday morning. The railroads must be completely blocked. Tuesday was the coldest day of the year.

Big Blizzard Around Cheboygan.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Feb. 6.—The worst blizzard of the season has been raging here since Monday night. Railway traffic is impeded and country travel entirely suspended. The mercury marks 12 degrees below zero.

Valparaiso Visited by a Blizzard.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 6.—A blizzard has been blowing here since 10 o'clock Monday night. No damage has as yet been reported.

SAM FORD UNDER ARREST.

The Champaign Forger Captured on a Train Near Tucson, Ari.

TUCSON, Ari., Feb. 6.—United States Marshal Gillespie to-day arrested Sam Ford of Kankakee, Ill., who is wanted for forgery at Kankakee, Chicago, and Champaign, Ill., and for whom the Pinkertons offer a reward of $2,000.

Gillespie was handed a photograph of Ford on a train, and on showing it to Ford the latter acknowledged himself to be the man wanted and said he forged checks on the national banks of Kankakee and Champaign, Ill., to the amount of $4,000. Ford had a ticket for New Orleans.

The Strike Settled.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The strike on all surface roads has been officially declared of no avail by the leaders of the strike. The men will go to work as they can.

A policeman guarding a boulevard car shot and probably fatally wounded a striker this afternoon. The latter was throwing stones a the car and struck the officer in the face.

Will Indict Moore and Sullivan.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 6.—The grand jury here is preparing indictments against Joseph A. Moore, the defaulting agnnt of the Connecticut Mutual, and John E. Sullivan, the absconding county clerk. A special from Montreal to-day says they are both in Canada.

Iowa Railroads Accept the Schedule.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 6.—The Iowa railways, finding further opposition to the Iowa railway law useless under the last decision of Judge Brewer, have concluded to gracefully surrender, and are so notifying the railway commission.

New Timber For the Cabinet.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 6.—It is stated here on apparently reliable authority that Gen. Harrison has offered the Treasury Portfolio to the Hon. William Windon of Minnesota, and that he will accept.

The Chamber of Torture.

Is the apartment to which the unhappy sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism is confined. If, ere the crisis of pain is reached, that fine preventive, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is used by persons of a rheumatic tendency, much unnecessary suffering is avoided. Nervines, anodynes and sedatives, while have not but a specific effect. are yet very desirable at times. Yet can they produce no lasting effect upon rheumatism, because they have no power to eliminate from the blood the rheumatic virus. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does this, and checks at the outset a disease which, if allowed to gain headway, it is next to impossible to dislodge or do more than relieve. Rheumatism, it should be remembered, is a disease with a fatal tendency from its proneness to attack the heart. A resort to the Bitters should therefore, be prompt. Dyspepsia, kidney complaint, malaria and nervousness are relieved by it.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Att., Clay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This great remedy will ward off as well as cure all Malarial Diseases. and for all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequaled. Price 50c. and $1 at F. Sherer & Co's Drugstore.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

DISCUSSION OF THE NICARAGUA CANAL BILL.

The Oklahoma Bill the Subject of a Senate Debate—Appropriation Bills—Minor Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The conference report on the Nicaragua canal bill was called up in the House and Mr. Cobb (Ala.) argued against its adoption and in favor of the House amendments from which the House conferrees had receded. One of them was that requiring the printing on the obligations of the company the provision declaring that the government shall not be liable on account of the company. He declared that it was not fitting for a great government like the United States to put the power in the hands of a set of men to go abroad and get money under false pretenses. There was millions in it to the incorporators if the enterprise was a success; there was to be no loss if it was a failure. Congress had no constitutional authority to erect a private business corporation. Under the treaty making power it could erect a corporation as an agent for government purposes; and it would be a monstrous doctrine that the United States should send an agent to construct a canal for government purposes and then turn around and say that it was not responsible for the acts of that agent.

Intended to Kill the Bill.

Mr. Rayner said the amendment was intended to kill the bill. It was intended to intimidate investors. Any man who would be led to believe that the United States government was responsible for the debts of the company was a fool, and Congress was not legislating for that class of people. He also justified the action of the House conference in receding from the amendment requiring that the shares, stocks, bonds, certificates, or other securities shall be disposed of only for cash. It would be impossible to raise $200,000,000 in cash.

Mr. Cobb suggested that the engineers had said that the canal would cost only $60,000,000.

Mr. Scott (Pa.) made the counter suggestion that the estimated cost of the Panama canal had been $120,000,000; that it had already cost $250,000,000, and would probably cost $250,000 more.

Cost of the Canal.

Mr. Rayner said that if the engineers estimated it at $60,000,000 it would cost $200,000,000. But even $60,000,000 was a good deal of money to raise. Touching the action of the conferrees in receding from the amendment authorizing the United States government to fix tolls upon the canal, Mr. Rayner said that the rates of toll were fixed in the concession and the Nicaraguan government was to receive a percentage of them. Of course, the United States had no right to interfere in such a case. If the company was not allowed to pay for property and labor in stock then the canal could not be built. It was only reasonable to suppose that after the incorporators had put $1,000,000 into the treasury they would carry out the work in good faith. The conferrees had put in a clause requiring such a deposit and that was an ample guaranty.

Mr. Bland (Mo.) criticized the conference report in that it eliminated from the bill the amendment reserving to the government the right to regulate the rate of tolls. There ought to be in the bill a provision securing the rights of the United States under the Bulwer-Clayton treaty. Under the provisions of the bill no such rights were reserved. The provision which had been inserted looking to the control of the canal had been stricken out.

Mr. Russell (Mass.) said that the United States had never exercised the power of preserving neutrality on the Darien isthmus, without regard to the Bulwer-Clayton treaty. It had exercised its power by showing its flag, and that was all there was or ever would be in the Monroe doctrine. A file of marines ten feet long and a flag as big as a newspaper were an assertion of the Monroe doctrine, and ever would be, when the United States was in the right.

Pending further debate the House adjourned.

RHODE ISLAND AND MISSOURI.

Senator Chase and Cockrell Exchange Compliments.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—There was a long debate in the Senate over the reference of of the House bill for a territorial government for Oklahoma. Mr. Dawes moved that it be referred to the committee on Indian affairs; and was supported by Mr. Chace, who said that it was patent that the bill was a well-laid scheme to encroach upon Indian rights and to rob the Indians. Mr. Platt moved that the bill be referred to the committee on Territories, and after a long debate the latter motion was adopted.

During the discussion, Mr. Chace alluded to "No Man's Land" as a little strip of land, and Mr. Cockrell suggested that it was larger than Rhode Island. Mr. Chace retorted that the State of Rhode Island had a right to Statehood under a compact with the United States before the State of Missouri was dreamed of, and in all the elements of civilization, of intelligence, of enterprise, and of everything which goes to make a great commonwealth, she stood to-day far in advance of that benighted State.

Mr. Cockrell declared that every foot of Rhode Island soil had been relentlessly and murderously wrested from the Indians. He would not pretend to compare Missouri with Rhode Island. He would be ashamed to represent a State and a people whom he would place on an equality with Rhode Island and her people. The remark as to "benighted Missouri" was no slur, considering the source from which it came.

Mr. Chace declared that Rhode Island had acquired her title to the Indian land by purchase, and had paid the purchase money three times over.

Appropriation Bills.

The Senate agreed to the committee amendments to the legislative appropriation bill, the principal one being to increase the salary of the President's private secretary from $3,500 to $5,000. An amendment, offered by Mr. Hawley, to increase the clerical force of the civil service commission, provoked a discussion on the question of civil-service reform, during which Mr. Plumb referred to the recent extension of civil service rules to postal employes as an attempt to embarrass the incoming administration, and said that Mr. Hawley's amendment was a contribution to that attempt. The bill and amendment were still under discussion when the Senate adjourned.

Amendments to the sundry civil bill were offered by Mr. Hawley for the payment to the widow of Gen. Sheridan of $50,0000, "in grateful recognition of his eminent and extraordinary services of his country," and by Mr. Stewart, to increase from $250,000 to $350,000 the appropriation for surveys of sites for reservoirs for reclaiming arid lands.

Endowments for the Catholic University

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The Rt.-Rev. John J, Keane, rector of the new Catholic university, in a letter from Rome announces the endowment of another chair in the university by Judge O'Connor of San Jose, Cal. Bishop Keane also says that the endowment of three more scholarships has been secured and that the Pope is preparing a brief in furtherance of the plans of the university, and in praise of America, her people, and her institutions.

Working on the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The ways and means committee is hard at work upon the tariff bill, and expects to report a bill to the House shortly which will combine the features common to the House and Senate bills, and also provide a considerable reduction in the tariff. They hope for favorable action by both Houses upon this proposed compromise measure, which contemplates a reduction of revenue of about $40,000,000 a year.

The nerves must be strengthened, the blood purified, liver and bowels regulated. Paine's Celery Compound—the Spring medicine of to-day—does all this, as nothing else can. Prescribed by Physicians, Recommended by Druggists, Endorsed by Ministers, Guaranteed by the Manufacturers to be

I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and before I had taken it a week I felt very much better. I can cheerfully recommend it to all who need a building up and strengthening medicine." The Old Doctors
Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition." — T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

"Elegant Sufficiency."

Loveliest of lovely things are they.
—BRYANT.

NO matter how elaborately a lady may be attired, there are certain little finishing touches which are indispensable to a really au fait appearance, and the neglect of such are most displeasing to the critical eye. On the other hand, when due attention is paid to these minor matters, even a garment of plain material and plainly made is so "set off" by them as to render the wearer "dressed" despite the plainness We allude to those very necessary articles, of which we give a few sample prices:

Ruchings

Embroideries.

Mull Ruchings (per yard)	5, 8, 10c
Flat Band Ruching, so extremely popular just now, (per yard)	10, 20, 30, 35, 50c

PETER ALLER Sup't.

JOHNSTOWN, Wis., January 2nd, 1888.

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND SUPERINTENDENTS OF THE ROCK COUNTY ASYLUM AND "POOR FARM."

GENTLEMEN: I have the pleasure of presenting you herewith my annual report as visiting physician to the county asylum and poor house for the year ending December, 1888 The statistics of both branches of this institution, of the population, of its increase and decrease you have probably already received from Superintendent Aller, hence is not necessary for me to repeat here.

As near as I can estimate it, there has been about the same amount of sickness this year, as in each of the previous three or four years, although a much greater mortality has occurred than in any previous year since my connection with the institution. The cause of this I attribute to old age and the ordinary diseases thereof in this class of people. There has been thirteen deaths during the year, the causes of which, old age included, are as follows: Brain softening, 2; inflammation of bowels, 2; debility from fracture and old age 1; shock from heavy fall, 1; chronic gastritis, 1; paralysis 2; consumption, 1; chronic nephritis and cystitis, 1; exhaustion from corroding ulcer, 1; cancer of womb, 1; insane, 2; dependents, 11.

The following summary, given in brief: The business of the year: Whole number of visits to county farm, 168; whole number of prescriptions, 713; whole number of births, 1; whole number of deaths 13 The sick have had all the care and attention that, under the circumstances, it was possible to give them.

The county is to be congratulated in having the services of such a kind-hearted, thoughtful and conscientious a person in the discharge of her duty, as the matron has proved herself to be, in giving them her personal attention, preparing them food and drink and administering to their necessities as much as is within her power to do. The sanitary condition of this institution is most excellent; drainage perfect, and cleanliness everywhere apparent, and probably no place for a county home its superior can any where be found within the lines of Rock county.

Through the kindness of the board of trustees and the building committee, there has been erected a small hospital building, which will accommodate eight patients; the erection of said building was timely, and supplies a long felt want in giving us more and suitable room for the accommodation of the sick.

I think the open door system of treatment for the chronic insane, inaugurated by the State Board of Charities, is a success in many respects, and the improvement made in the condition of these unfortunate people is very great, and I cheerfully advise its continuance.

I am very truly yours,
W. M. ROCKWELL.

E. D. M'GOWAN,
Clerk Circuit Court, Rock County, Wis.
JANESVILLE, January 14th, 1889.

To the Hon. Board of Supervisors of Rock County, Wisconsin:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith submit my report for the year 1888:

I have received from W. F. Williams, county clerk, $2,700.00, and from other sources (Green county and Walworth county) $50.59 for wood and coal, $61.25, making a total of $2,811.84. I have granted relief to two hundred and twelve persons; I have paid out for the relief of the poor the sum of $3,106.85, leaving a balance due me of $295.02.

The wood and coal spoken of above, I employed a man with team to deliver about the city for the poor, and let him have wood and coal in part payment for his labor. The past year has not been as expensive as some of the previous ones, as out of the amount of money paid out by me this year, $545.55 was for bills not presented for payment that was made in the year 1887, which will leave only $2,563 30 the whole amount of money paid for the support of poor in my district for the year 1888; for the whole amount of money paid out by me during this year it should be distributed as follows:

Town of Fulton	$ 47 50

She gave no signs of returning consciousness, and a slight twitching of the muscles of the eyes and throat were the only signs of life she has betrayed. No nourishment has been given her. Her jaws were so rigidly set that the teeth were pried open with difficulty, and then the patient could not swallow the liquid. EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of last April I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales being formed, meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Catarrh to Consumption

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of all sufferers in advertized remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery, rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvulva so elongated the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional, instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City Billings, Bozeman, Missoula the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney Sprague, Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory printed in colors.

HIT HIM WITH A FLAT IRON.

A Flat-Iron Used With Serious Effect—A Dispute About Devils.

"You're a nice kind of a man. You don't believe in God or the devil or anything else," said William Canary excitedly to John Buob last night.

"Oh no, that isn't true," was the calm response. "May be I don't believe in all devils; but I know there must be some devils Billy, or else you wouldn't be here."

The religious discussion of which the remarks just quoted were a part took place in the Shamrock House of William Canary, son of one of the debators, on West Milwaukee street early last evening. Mr. Buob's words were hardly out of his mouth when he was struck and knocked toward the wall. The two disputants clinched and Mr. Buob notwithstanding his gray hair, got the best of it.

Canary finally drew back into the kitchen to wash the blood from his face, and the door was locked before him. He slipped a flat iron into his pocket, however, and went around to the front door. Before he could break in, Mr. Boub had gone, and was in O. E. Smith's saloon near by. Here Canary found him, but attempted no violence. As Mr. Boub was passing J. B. Doe's residence on his way down town a short time later, Canary stepped behind him and struck him with the flat-iron, the blow cutting a deep gash on the back of the head. Although partly stunned by the blow Mr. Buob was able to defend himself, and, before his assailant could strike another blow, help was at hand, and the flat-iron was taken away.

This morning Mr. Buob made compliant in the municipal court, and the matter will son come up for a hearing.

Mr. Wharton's friends whisper that if the matter is further agitated, counter-charges will be prefered against Presiding Elder Halsey.

—An affecting scene occurred at Chicago the other day as the train was about starting which would bear Margaret Mather to Janesville. The fair actress fell upon the neck of a fine looking man and wept bitterly. It was her husband, Emil Haberkorn. He was about leaving for Colorado Springs where he hoped to arrest the progress of consumption, but there is little hope for recovery. Margaret skated on the Rock that afternoon and acted the fond sweetheart at night but doubtless she felt as badly as any one would.

BEER FOR JANESVILLE.

HOW THE MINNEAPOLIS BREWING CO. WAS TAKEN IN.

ACT I.

The stranger is standing at the Minneapolis bar with a foaming mug of beer in his hand. "This is good beer," he remarked. "Where is it made?"

"Dot is our Minneapolis bier, made by der Germania Brewing Association," responded the proprietor.

"First rate, first rate," says the stranger approvingly. Then he added as he gnaws a pretzel, "I'm from Janesville, Wis., and I've a good notion to buy a couple of car loads of it and introduce it there."

Capt. Vander Horck, who is interested in the Germania Brewing association is reading a paper at the cigar counter. He overhears the conversation, and pricks up his ears at the prospect of selling a couple of car loads of the extract of malt. He comes forward and a few minutes later is introduced to the stranger. The subject of beer is discussed, and the stranger is urged to give the Minneapolis article a trial. But he demurs. The Best folks have always treated him well, and he hardly likes to go back on them. Still he might go out to the brewery and see for himself. Yes, it would be something of an object if he could buy Minneapolis beer cheaper than Milwaukee.

ACT II.

Two hours later, the stranger having been wined and dined properly in the meantime—"Well, gentlemen, I will take two car loads and will give you my check. Still, I would like to have you make the bill net and pay me the discount in cash. It will cover my expenses, and my partner won't know the difference."

Capt. Vander Horck—Why, certainly, Westphal, give me enough to make up the $65 the discount amounts to.

FINALE.

One week later two car loads of bee returned from Janesville; stranger hasn't been seen; Minneapolis brewers pronounce Janesville a bad town any way.

MATRIMONIAL.

TONKIN-LUGG.

A very quiet wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lugg, 15 Chatham street, last evening at half-past seven o'clock, it being the marriage of Mr. William C. Tonkin and Miss Elizabeth M. Lugg, only about fifteen or twenty of the relatives of the bride and groom being present to witness the pleasant ceremony. The Rev. C. H. Lugg, assisted by the Rev. Geo. H. Trever, of the Court Street M. E. church, officiated. Congratulations and a bountiful wedding supper followed. The bride was remembered by tokens which attest the esteem in which she is held by her associates. Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin will at once settle down to housekeeping on the farm of the groom near Shopiere, where the best wishes of many friends will abide with them through life.

CAUGHT BY THE BLADES.

WILLIS EVANS MAIMED BY STEAM TRIMMING SHEARS.

Willis Evans, one of the employes of the Janesville Machine Company was painfully injured while at work late yesterday afternoon. He was sharpening a pair of heavy trimming shears and in some way the machinery was thrown into gear and the blade descended. The index finger of Evans' right hand was taken off at the first joint, and to-day the injured hand is borne in a sling.

HOW THE TROUBLE GREW.

THE TENANT'S STORY OF ATTORNEY LANE'S TRESPASS SUIT.

Joseph Boviall, the hired man in the Lane trespass suit, is preparing for a vigorous defense. The suit is brought because of his refusal to give up Mr. Lane's farm, which he claims to have leased until Nov. 17th, 1889, and the contract for which he claims to be able to produce. That he assaulted Mr. Lane he admits, but says that it was because Mr. Lane took off his coat and hat and started in first.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

A look through the Janesville Steam Laundry yesterday proved how little one knows of the improvements that are going on. The office has been newly painted and improved. Ironing, starching, and washing machines have recently been added. The work done is of fresh quality, and needs no recommendation, the "wear and tear" being only about half that of a hand laundry. The fine quality of the work turned out is acknowledged by the best people in the city. Traveling men are loud in its praise. Twenty-five other towns are furnished with laundry work, the routes reaching into four states and territories, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota, besides Wisconsin.

"If humor, wit, and honesty could save" from ills flesh is hier to, what a good price they'd bring in the market. Well, twenty-five cents will buy a pannace—Salvation Oil.

DISCOVERIES OF SCIENCE.

Norwich Bulletin.

"Hullo, Billy," shouted a Norwich public school boy of the primary division to a parochial school chum, "I'm studying Hijine and phizzerology now! Don't teach 'em in your school, does they? They tells yer all about yerself, just how many insisters and molers yer have in yer mouth, and how yer all tied together with lingerments. If these teachers tell the truth, Billy, we're dun up just as carefully as a bundle of dried apples is!"

May to Bell.

Dear Bell: I'll write you a short letter,
To say I'm wonderfully better;
How much that means you ought to know,
Who saw me just one month ago—
Thin, nervous, fretful, white as chalk,
Almost to weak to breath or talk;
Head throbbing, as if fit for breaking,
A weary, ever-present aching.
But now life seems a different thing;
I feel as glad as bird on wing!
I say, and fear no contradiction,
That Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is grand! Why, I'd have died without it!
Me thinks there's no mistake about it.
It's driven all my ills away;
Just come and see! Yours ever, MAY.

MANY MERRY MASKERS.

TRUSTEE PULLback, of the Lime Kiln Club, led the first waltz at Concordia Hall last evening. The fact that it was the night sacred to Germany and to Germany's son's and daughters made no difference. The trustee was there and the trustee's friends, ranging in color from chocolate to ebony. And there were Indians, Chinese, Turks, Highlanders, in fact men of all nations, besides. A miser attired in linen duster and hat of the vintage of '40, and carrying his gold in a grain bag over his shoulder, joined in the dance just as cheerfully as if it didn't cost a cent. Dancing beside him was a figure in green that might have been either a frog or Captain Paul Boynton in the swimming suit that he didn't exhibit to Janesville people.

To keep Mr. Money-bags company there was the God of Gold and in his train were soldiers from every branch of the service. "Ma's Pet" was a fair young thing six feet high, whose specialties were pop corn and high kicking.

Regard for the mother country was shown by the number of German emigrants as well as by the satisfied smile on the face of Herr Von Pumpernickel the burgomaster, himself. The luncheon that was served down stairs was German too and consisted of rye bread and piping hot Vienna sausages, cooked in a way that would put the presiding genius of an American kitchen to despair.

On the dancing floor at nine o'clock the fun was just fairly beginning. A witch was jerking about savagely, stick in hand, and threatening to fly off at any minute—well, perhaps some of the red-legged devils that were standing around could tell where. A young man fearfully and wonderfully clad in a suit made of bandana handkerchiefs carried out the bandana idea by getting in the soup just as early as possible. Arm in arm with him was a youth in knee breeches whose only reason for regret seemed to be that a wad of loose cotton showed through a rent in his brilliantly colored hosiery. Another young man in knickerbockers circled about the floor vigorously to the music of a waltz, cutting a wide swath with the palm leaf fan that he carried at arms length.

Among the fair sex there were noticeable the guardian of Erin's harp; a widow, labelled with commendable thoughtfulness, "dashing"; a shepherdess—several of her, in fact—; three little maids from school; three natty sailor girls, three maidens in black riding habits, and a trio of flower girls. Three seemed to be a lucky number.

Ed Ebrlinger, who came on the floor about ten o'clock, won a burst of applause. He was swathed in oil skin and took the part of the "Lone Fisherman" to perfection. At 11:30 the grand march was begin, and ten minutes later all masks were removed. From midnight until three o'clock Smith & Anderson's orchestra furnished music for those in fancy dress and plainer garb of every day life alike. The added seating accommodations increased the capacity of the hall greatly, and fully two hundred and fifty couples passed the door, over three hundred tickets having been sold at ten o'clock. The masquerade was a success and the crowd served only to make the success more evident.

THAT LITTLE PROBLEM.

IT HAS CAUSED CONSIDERABLE FIGURING AMONG JANESVILLE MATHEMATICIANS.

The little mathematical problem concerning the New Hampshire liquor agent, which was published in the Gazette on Tuesday of last week, has been the source of considerable study by old and young, and results of their figuring continue to reach this office. As stated at the time it was first published, the problem is a straight business proposition or account, no catch of any kind. The Gazette has received upwards of one hundred answers up to noon to-day, and of this number only three are correct, one of the three coming from Madison. On to-morrow the Gazette will publish most of the answers as received, showing how the problem has been figured by various parties and results reached, also the correct answer and exactly how reached. The various answers will cause nearly as much amusement as the original problem.

GRAND MASTER CARR.

HE IS EXPERIENCING A PLEASANT VISIT AMONG CALIFONIAN GRANGERS.

Hon. S. C. Carr, of Milton, Grand Master of the Wisconsin State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, is now in California, among the beautiful orange groves of Santa Rosa and Passadena. On January 17th he attended a meeting of a grange at Santa Rosa, at which he met his brother, Nelson Carr, for the first time in thirty-five years. They did not recognize each other in the lodge room and were introduced by the master of the grange. Grand Master Carr is experiencing a pleasant visit in California, there now being five brothers together for the first time in 35 years, and finds much pleasure in visiting among the local granges. The official organ of the California Grange says: "As the long-honored Master of Wisconsin State Grange and a true, able and veteran grange speaker and laborer in the cause, we welcome Brother Carr to California and the Pacific Slope."

Mr. Carr says in a private letter:—My object in coming is to see my brothers once more and that we may all assemble together at Pasadena (five of us) and have probably, a farewell visit. My dear brother, if you could have been with us at Pomona Grange meeting, Santa Rosa, January 16th, and witnessed the scene of three brothers meeting after 35 yerrs of separation, you could have seen tear-drops brushed from cheeks seldom used to tears. I had to ask the W. M. to introduce us. The G. K. had informed us that Nelson Carr and wife were in the hall, but we could not distinguish them. It was a grandly rare and fraternal meeting in which all the grange members participated, coming forward and giving us the patron's grip and word of cheer.

SOME ODD THINGS.

Jose Diazero is the name of a Mexican living in Santa Barbara county, California, who is 129 years old.

A horse owned in Pittsburg has developed an appetite for clay, and when allowed to get at it will eat two quarts at one time.

A botanical exploring party from Germany recently discovered on one of the Philippine islands a number of plants whose flowers were almost a yard in diameter, the petals, five in number, being oval, and of a creamy white shade.

A boy living near Abilene, Tex., was recently bitten by a snake and was soon taken with convulsions. An old Mexican scraped out the bow of a briar pipe, applied the scrapings to the child's wounds, and the next day the boy was well.

Martin Swetman of Blair, Lawrence county, Ky., killed a valuable cow one day last week that had been seized with fits. On examining the head of the dead animal a small live snake was found hanging between the nostrils, with its head in one and its tail in the other nasal passage.

The late King Alphonso XIV., of Spain, gave to his cousin Mercedes, when betrothed to her, a ring which has brought death to each successive wearer of it. Five members of Spain's royal family wore it, and each one died shortly after placing it on the hand. The ring now hangs from a statue of the maid of Almudera in Madrid.

In Nagasaki, China, lives a fire-works maker who manufactures pyrotehnic birds of great size that, when exploded, sail life-like through the air, and perform the same movements exactly like living birds. The secret of making these wonderful things has been in the possession of the oldest male child of the family of each generation for over 400 years.

Near the City of Mexico six members of a family were recently found dead, and murder by poisoning was strongly suspected, as no marks of violence were found on the bodies. Upon examination the coffee-pot was found to contain a dead centipede which had crawled into the vessel, been boiled in the coffee, and the reptile's poison thus extracted had killed these persons.

THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

There is a house in Atlanta, Ga., made entirely of paper, "from turret to foundation stone." No other material is used in its construction.

A writer on trades' unions and strikes says that the apparent outcome of a strike is frequently no indication of its real effect. "An unsuccessful strike often succeeds," he writes, "while a foolish strike may prevent a rise of wages."

The largest and heaviest building stone ever quarried in England was recently cut out from the Pilkington quarry, Norwich. It is in one piece, without crack or flaw, and weighs over thirty-five tons. It is 15 feet long, 6 feet high, and 5 feet wide.

The New York assembly numbers 128 members, among whom there are 15 farmers, 1 cigar-maker, 1 tanner, 1 hat manufacturer, 1 street-car conductor, 2 shoe dealers, 2 carpenters, 1 steam-fitter, 1 iron-founder, 3 clerks, 3 editors, and 3 undertakers. The other members are lawyers, merchants, or doctors.

Sunday labor has been greatly increasing during the last few years. In the city of New York alone there are fully 100,000 men and women who work every Sunday at their trades or vocations. A religious organization there is trying to prevent the growth of this encroachment upon the day of rest, and it has already begun its work with the cigar-makers.

According to the Safety Valve not a few of the diseases which trouble workshop employes are due to poor seating arrangements. For general purposes the best seats will be found to be the ordinary four-legged wooden-seated stool, with a home-made back added. This back is a thin piece of springy board, the top rounded off and bolted to the seat and lower round. This seat is easily mounted and dismounted. For persons standing or sitting a foot-rest will be found of great service, for, by frequently changing from one foot to the other, the limbs are kept in a good condition. This is important to rheumatic and heavy-limbed persons. Experience has taught us that, other things being equal, in making a journey we should select a route having cars with side foot-rests.

At the time of his good fortune he was a ship carpenter employed at the St. Louis Sectional Docks, but has since retired. He stated that he will continue to buy tickets the same as usual in the hopes of striking the capital prize again.—St. Louis Star-Sayings, Dec. 2.

—Gillies & Jones have a stock of all well-known mixtures for coughs and colds.

—We regret to announce the demise of an old citizen, Mr. Arthur Jones, who departed this life on Monday of this week at 1 p. m. Mr. Jones' health had not been good for years being subject to frequent dizzy or fainting spells liable to come upon him at any time, and in which he usually would fall to the ground with a temporary loss of consciousness from which he would soon recover and be as usual again. About two weeks ago he met with such a fall on icy ground, but this time he struck with some violence on the back of his head, sustaining as events showed, a serious injury to brain and spinal column. Notwithstanding medical aid and all that kind friends could do he gradually grew worse until the end came. His son Thomas, of Northville, Dakota, was reached by telegraph and arrived here the day before his father's death. Funeral on Wednesday. An obituary will appear next week.

The house was densely crowded, and a large number were obliged to stand during the services, which were conducted by the Rev. J. W. Olmstead. A very appropriate and impressive song service was rendered by the choir. The chair she had so long occupied in the choir, but now vacant, was appropriately draped, there was a rich profusion of choice flowers, and among the floral offerings were many fine pieces prominent among which was a beautiful floral cross, the gift of one who was to have claimed her as his bride: The remains were taken to South Grove, near Sharon, Walworth county, for burial, and was followed by a large number of sympathizing friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rokenbrodt appreciate the many acts of kindness and attention they have received during the prolonged illness of their beloved daughter, and especially for the kind tokens of sympathy bestowed in the time of their great affliction, they express their heartfelt thanks.

It was reported Sunday afternoon that the stroke of paralysis of the Saturday before had terminated fatally. The pastor of the Congregational church in the evening service prayed for the afflicted family who mourned the death of a son and we so reported last week, but he is not the only person who has lived to read his own obituary, and we are very glad to be able to report an error this week, and be able to add a reasonable prospect of final recovery.

—Some people seem to enjoy meeting old time friends and acquaintances after a separation of perhaps for many years a great deal better than others. Fred Gould is apparently one of the first named class. He received a visit the other day with which he seemed exceeding well pleased. Lost Time on Short Days.

She was a humble waiting-maid in Oakland. Oakland is the Athens of California, and the ah, there! of San Francisco. She waited upon an Athenian table and cooked Athenian steaks for Athenian appetites. She was not all lost. She had relatives in San Francisco, and she visited them on her off-day. It is one long off-day in Oakland. It had been her custom of a forenoon for many months to make this little pilgrimage, and winter approached and the sun rose later and set eariler in accordance with the rules of the celestial trade union. One day a couple of weeks ago she went to her mistress.

"Please, ma'am, you'll have to let me go an hour earlier, now."

"Why?"

"Because, ma'am, I've got to go over to the city, and, you know, ma'am, the days are so short now that I lose more than an hour."

London Undergoing a Change.

London is undergoing such a remarkable transformation that returning travelers hardly know some districts. The most miserable courts between Tottenham court and road and Piccadilly circus have already been turned into fine thoroughfares. Chelsea has suddenly risen from a dilapidated suburb into an aristocratic quarter. In the neighborhood of Charing cross intricate by-ways, flanked by houses moldering through age, have become palaces of the caravanserai sort, or mansions like those of Whitehall court. Now an old section further east along the Thames is to be modernized with fine buildings. The Thames embankment is rapidly becoming, by reason of its buildings, the finest walk in Europe. The gloomy walls of Newgate prison are also soon to disappear and be replaced by shops. The Newgate calendar thus becomes obsolete.

Funerals in France.

The funerals of Paris, France, are in charge of a company, whose monopoly as regulated by law is a vast enterprise, possessed of exceptional resources, an immense number of horses and carriages, a numerous and well-disciplined personnel. Each year it takes charge of about fifty thousand funerals, about half of which are those of the poor. The administration of the Pompes Funebres is situated in the Que l'Aubervilliers. It is a big, heavy, white stone building, built round a vast glass-roofed courtyard. Beneath the vast building of the Pompes Funebres are cellars dimly lighted with gas jets and full of rows and rows of coffins of all qualities. The cellar contains a stock of 15,000 coffins ready for use.
